

Name:

Chapter XXXVI – Faith

1. Faith is the acceptance of _____ on the _____ of another.
2. A person's authority is his _____ to be believed on account of his _____ and _____.
3. An act of science is based on (intrinsic) (extrinsic) evidence.
4. Two and two make four. My assent here is an act of (faith) (science).
5. There are three kinds of faith: _____, _____ and _____.
6. It is by an act of _____ faith that I know Teresa is a saint.
7. Assenting to the Trinity, I make an act of _____ faith.
8. My act of divine faith is made by my _____, under a command from my _____.
9. It is a (natural) (supernatural) act.
10. Its certitude is proportionate to God's _____.
11. Its motive is God's _____.
12. I believe in the Trinity because (Scripture and Tradition refer to it) (the Church defines it) (God reveals it).
13. When I want to know if God has revealed a truth, I ask _____.
14. The Church interprets Scripture and Tradition (fallibly) (infallibly).
15. Because my act of faith is free, it can _____ a reward in heaven.
16. My act of divine faith (can) (cannot) be false.
17. The certitude in my act of divine faith is a (natural) (supernatural) one.
18. I (am) (am not) more certain of the existence of heaven than of my own existence.
19. I (am) (am not) obliged to profess my faith externally.
20. I am (sometimes) (never) allowed to deny my faith.
21. A Catholic who denied all God's revealed truths would be called _____.

22. Our Lord tells us that “The clean of heart shall see _____.”
23. Another name for levity of mind is _____.
24. The list of forbidden books is called the _____.
25. The virtue of faith is a glorious gift of supernatural light and _____
_____.

1. Faith is the acceptance of (truth) on the (authority) of another. 2. A person's authority is his (right) to be believed on account of his (knowledge) and (truthfulness). 3. An act of science is based on (intrinsic) (extrinsic) evidence. 4. Two and two make four. My assent here is an act of (faith) (science). 5. There are three kinds of faith: (human), (ecclesiastical) and (divine). 6. It is by an act of (ecclesiastical) faith that I know Teresa is a saint. 7. Assenting to the Trinity, I make an act of (divine) faith. 8. My act of divine faith is made by my (intellect), under a command from my (will). 9. It is a (natural) (supernatural) act. 10. Its certitude is proportionate to God's (authority). 11. Its motive is God's (authority). 12. I believe in the Trinity because (Scripture and Tradition refer to it) (the Church defines it) (God reveals it). 13. When I want to know if God has revealed a truth, I ask (the Church). 14. The Church interprets Scripture and Tradition (fallibly) (infallibly). 15. Because my act of faith is free, it can (merit) a reward in heaven. 16. My act of divine faith (can) (cannot) be false. 17. The certitude in my act of divine faith is a (natural) (supernatural) one. 18. I (am) (am not) more certain of the existence of heaven than of my own existence. 19. I (am) (am not) obliged to profess my faith externally. 20. I am (sometimes) (never) allowed to deny my faith. 21. A Catholic who denied all God's revealed truths would be called (an apostate). 22. Our Lord tells us that "The clean of heart shall see (God)." 23. Another name for levity of mind is (superficiality). 24. The list of forbidden books is called the (Index). 25. The virtue of faith is a glorious gift of supernatural light and (good will).